

quickly if we have the desired images, and then suggest the images from our extensive files that will best met your requirements.

Digital Electronic Delivery: Our files are available via the Internet within a few hours. Images are transmitted in Adobe RGB, and saved in high quality Photoshop JPEG. We are also able to transfer the files via FTP directly to your prepress house.

Pricing: Each license is presented for a specific use. Generally, we charge a one-time licensing fee depend on actual usage. The greater the rights granted, the higher the fees. For this reason, it is very important that the buyer provide detailed information about the intended use for the images. We match the price of other right-managed providers. Discounts are available for multiple image use. Our minimum licensing fee is $150.00. D & D World Photography (The Twins) do not grant free commercial licenses solely in exchange for credits or links.

Licensing Terms: We have very reasonable terms. Our firm has a record of serving the photographic requirements of individuals, corporations, and other clients. Not all images can be licensed.

References: We have been in business since 2007. A short list of our clients is provided upon request.

D & D World Photography (The Twins)

How to license, gain permission to use, a photo

To license a specific image, click on the image desired (so that it fills the page), then proceed to click on the license image located below the desired image, and then fill out the appropriate form to request a quote. After receiving the license request we will reply by email.

If you require a request that is more complex, contact us by email (DickWhite@TwinsGalleria.com), or phone (714-454-1788). Prior to directly communicating with D & D World Photography, please develop an in-depth request with as much detail as you can about the intended use of the images, including desired size, where the images will be placed or located, circulation and territory where the images will be shown.

Image Use: Images are not restricted in their use. Uses may include, but are not limited to: Advertising, Promotional Materials, Illustrations in various media (Editorials, Magazines, Films, Digital Media, Books, and Web Pages) Interior and Exterior Designs, Architectural Interiors, Retail Products and Industrial Designs. As the purchaser, you are responsible for how the images are used, and whether other permissions may be required.

Exclusivity: Images produced by D & D World Photography (The Twins), is directed primarily to buyers with discriminating and refined taste. Our images are available exclusively from our web site (with a few exceptions). They have never been associated with Royalty-Free images and are not included in stock photo collections. Our image licenses ensure that our images are limited in exposure through right-management. A complete licensing history for any of our images is available upon request, with a limit of 50 images per request. Exclusive licenses are available and welcome. All images are registered with the US copyright office.

Image Research: Images on our web site are only produced by D & D World Photography (The Twins), as a result we are able to determine